HB 2304 - SB 2591

February 17, 2000

SUMMARY OF BILL: Provides that members of local boards of education are not eligible to be employed as the Director of Schools by the local board of education on which the member served until one year after the member leaves office. In addition, no spouse of a board member would be eligible for employment as the Director of Schools by the board on which the spouse serves.

The bill requires the Director of Schools to have a Master's Degree in Education, but provides that a director serving at the time of passage of the bill, would still be qualified to serve in that capacity.

ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT:

MINIMAL

According to the Tennessee Organization of School Superintendents, all school systems currently employ superintendents with Master's Degrees; therefore, there would be no effect on local expenditures or revenues.
